Patent Application

Atty. Docket No.: 03797.00557
Client No. 301170.1

ABSTRACT

A process for migrating a system or application from a localized language to a localization independent language. The process comprises at least a process for determining which strings need to be set to a localization independent language and at least a second process for handling the conversion of the strings to the localization independent language.